REFLECTING THIS SUNDAY'S READINGS:

Jesus begins to preach in Galilee and calls his first disciples.

Today's Gospel describes the beginning of Jesus' public ministry. In the Gospels of Matthew, Mark, and Luke (called the Synoptic Gospels), Jesus' public ministry begins after his baptism by John the Baptist and after his retreat to the desert where he was tempted by the devil. When Jesus returns from the desert, he hears that John has been arrested. The first part of today's Gospel places Jesus' ministry in the context of the writings of the prophet, Isaiah. Matthew wants to show that Jesus is the fulfillment of the prophecies given to the people of Israel, and he refers to Isaiah to do so. Isaiah says that the Messiah will begin his ministry in Galilee, the land of the Gentiles. When Jesus begins to preach in Galilee, Matthew points to his ministry as a fulfillment of Isaiah's prophecy, proof that Jesus is the Messiah. When Jesus called his first disciples, the Gospel tells us that the fishermen (Peter and Andrew, James and John) dropped everything to follow Jesus immediately. Yet this Gospel tells us little about the prior experience that the fishermen had of Jesus. Did they know him? Had they heard him preach? What kind of person must Jesus have been to invoke such a response? We can imagine that Jesus was a powerful presence to elicit a response as immediate and complete as these first disciples gave. The Gospel concludes with a description of the ministry that Jesus begins in Galilee. Jesus inaugurates the Kingdom of God with his work. He teaches in the synagogue and preaches the kingdom. His ability to cure people's diseases and illness is a sign of the kingdom. In Jesus' ministry, we already begin to see the Kingdom of God among us.

First Reading

- How do you imagine life in this region?
- What imagery does Isaiah use?
- Do you think people believed Isaiah?
- How might this prophecy have changed people?
- How might Jesus feel about the arrest of John the Baptist?
- Why might Jesus like Capernaum for his home base?
- What effect might the quotation from Isaiah have on Matthew's hearers?
- What all might Jesus be thinking and feeling as he begins his own ministry?

Gospel

- What are you hoping for?
- Have you ever experienced a glorious change?
- In what ways can you inspire hope in others?
- What do you think life is like for fishermen?
- Why do you think Jesus chooses these particular men as disciples?
- How might each of the men react when Jesus calls him?
- Why do you think these men are willing to follow Jesus?
- What all might the men's family and friends think about their decision to leave?
- Do you think anyone else wants to follow Jesus, too, but doesn't?
- What do you think it's like for the fishermen to see Jesus heal people?
- What must you leave behind in order to keep following Jesus? What will you miss? What will you be glad to leave behind?

There is high drama in II Kings. Israel sought a king. God warned of the consequences: taxation, and military and agricultural conscription under the whims of the king. The populace pushed. God relented. History showed God was right. The autocracy of Israel led to civil war. The divisions within the nation led to two new nations. Each was weak. Both would fall. This is the story of II Kings. Come and join our study on Tuesday, January 20th at 9:45 am in the church social hall.

Mass has been cancelled for Sunday, Jan. 25, through Tuesday, Jan. 27
