REFLECTING THIS SUNDAY'S READINGS:

God sent his Son into the world to save the world.

This week we return to the liturgical season of Ordinary Time. This Sunday and next, however, are designated as solemnities—special days that call our attention to central mysteries of our faith. Today on Trinity Sunday we celebrate the mystery of the Holy Trinity, one God in three persons. Today's Gospel is from the beginning of John's Gospel. The passage we read follows Jesus' conversation with a Pharisee, Nicodemus, about what it means to be born of both water and the spirit. Nicodemus approaches Jesus at night and acknowledges Jesus as a teacher from God. Jesus tells him that only those who are born from above will see the Kingdom of God. Nicodemus misunderstands and questions how a person can be born more than once. Jesus tells Nicodemus that no one can enter the Kingdom of God without being born of water and Spirit. Jesus is essentially explaining Baptism, which we celebrate as a sacrament today. Yet Nicodemus, we are told, still does not understand what Jesus is saying. Jesus continues by testifying to the need to be born from above so that one might have eternal life. After the dialogue with Nicodemus, the author of the Gospel offers his own explanation of Jesus' words. This is what we read in today's Gospel, John 3:16-18. In the context of today's focus on the mystery of the Holy Trinity, the reading calls our attention to the action of God, who reveals himself in three persons: God the Father, Jesus the Son, and the Holy Spirit. God the Father, out of love for the world, sent his Son into the world in order to save it. Through the death and resurrection of the Son, we have been given the gift of the Holy Spirit. As three persons, God acts always as a God of love; he does not condemn the world but acts to save it. The Gospel also calls attention to the response that is required of us. God's love for us calls us to respond in faith by professing our belief in God's son, Jesus, and the salvation that he has won for us. This profession of faith is a sign of the work of the Holy Spirit in our lives.

First Reading

- What do you think it's like for Moses on the mountain?
- How does God arrive?
- How does God seem to you?
- How does Moses react?
- How do you think you would have reacted?
- What do you think Moses is thinking during all of this?
- What does God promise?
- How does Moses prove to be a good mediator for the Israelites?
- In what ways did God give his Son?
- In what ways do people perish?
- How has the world received Jesus?
- What does God want for the world?
- How does believing in Jesus change a person?
- How are people condemned?
- How might those who first heard these words have reacted?

Gospel

- What insight(s) does this passage offer you?
- How would you describe God to someone who had no concept of a divine being?
- What does this passage reveal about God?
- In what ways is the world hostile to God?
- Why do you think this reading and the First Reading were chosen for Trinity Sunday?
